Avinash Kumar Ranjan

Jayapraksh Narayan's life happens to be a life of endless quest for getting suitable ways and means to resolve the socio-economic and political conditions of the toiling masses of the country. Jayprakash Narayan was a great humanitarian and his doctrine of "Total Revolution" is not only a system of social economic reconstruction of Indian society but it is also a philosophy of moral and spiritual rebirth of Indian people. Indeed he was the greatest mass leader in Indian history after Gandhi ji. He was one of the greatest defender of democracy in the 20th century.
