

The Role of micro and small units of Agro-Processing industry of Vaishali district in Economic Development of Bihar

Dr. Vivek Kumar

Vaishali has huge potential for growth of micro and small units of agro-processing industry. Micro and small units help a lot in employment generation. Unemployment is very high in Bihar which can be finished by setting up labour intensive industry and micro and small scale agro-processing industry are highly labour intensive and because of this micro and small units of agro-processing industry play a vital role in economic development of Bihar. Micro and small units have helped a lot in promoting inclusive economic growth of Bihar and will continue to do so. It has been also found that micro and small units of agro-processing industry have also helped a lot in solving the problems like income disparity and social unrest which again is a step towards welfare state.
